

CDU Languages and Linguistics for First Nations Language Contexts

Gain practical knowledge and skills to apply to your own language context.

CDU's Linguistics team offers a new program to help people understand important linguistic ideas and tools. It covers sounds, words, sentences, and meanings, useful for their own language needs. It also teaches ways to plan language revitalization, including policies and case studies. These micro-credentials give practical tools for improving language skills and supporting ongoing language learning.

3 courses are being offered during 22 June 2024 – 4 August 2024.

Our courses:

MIC101-104 are focused on understanding language structures:

- 1) MIC101 Introducing Linguistics and the Wonders of Language [2CPs]
- 2) MIC102 Understanding Speech Sounds and Patterns [2CPs]
- 3) MIC103 Building Words and Sentences [4CPs]
- 4) MIC104 Exploring Language and Meaning [2CP]

Workshops for MIC101-104 will take place 1-5 July 2024

MIC301-304 are focused on community language policy and planning practices and philosophies:

- 1) MIC301 Language Revitalisation, Maintenance and Vitality [4CPs]
- 2) MIC302 Language Policy [2CPs]
- 3) MIC303 Language Planning [2CPs]
- 4) MIC304 Workshop in Language Policy and Planning [2CPs]

Workshops for MIC301-304 will take place 8-12 July 2024

If you require further information regarding the registration and payment process,
Contact: 08 8946 6278 | fasinnovations@cdu.edu.au

Each 2-CP module runs for 6-weeks and involves:

- > 5-hour (one-day) workshop
- > 25 hours of self-study (through online learning materials)

Each 4-CP module runs for 6-weeks and involves:

- > 10-hour (two-day) Face to face/online workshop
- > 50 hours of self-study (through online learning materials)

Completion and Recognition:

- Completion of each module awards participants a Digital Badge.
- Participants who successfully complete the associated assessment tasks can apply for academic credit towards the Diploma of Arts/Bachelor of Arts.

Registration is open to everyone, including current CDU students and general members of the public.

Who should attend:

- > First Nations language advocates, speakers and learners
- > Community language program staff and members
- > Teachers and educators
- > NGO Staff

Why should attend:

- > Gain practical skills in languages and linguistics, to apply to own language contexts
- > Enhance career prospects in language and education sectors
- > Enjoy flexible learning opportunities, with accredited units of study that can lead to Diploma and Degree courses

Schedule overview:

Date	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
1-5 July, 2024	MIC101 (2CPs)	MIC102 (2CPs)	MIC103 (4CPs)		MIC104 (2CPs)
8-12 July, 2024	MIC301 (4CPs)		MIC302 (2CPs)	MIC303 (2CPs)	MIC304 (2CPs)

Note:

All 8 micro-credentials are available with self-paced study (through online learning platform) over six weeks: 22 June – 4 August 2024 and participants will attend a one- or two-day F2F/online workshop

Cost:

$450 per 2-CP micro-credential/module; $900 per 4-CP micro-credential/module (GST is not included).

Package options:

Discounts available for organisations enrolling 5+ of their members.

Registration:

Register using provided registration links or an invoice (please contact the FAS Innovation team).

registration link

If you require further information regarding the registration and payment process,

Contact: 08 8946 6278 | fasinnovations@cdu.edu.au